

DANCING RABBIT GENEALOGICAL & HISTORICAL SOCIETY

January 2020

President's Message

Greetings,

Hope you'll have a wonderful new year in 2020. I'm looking forward to what DRGHS can accomplish this year. We, as a society, have accomplished lots in preserving part of the history of Carthage and Leake County. DRGHS should be proud of what we have accomplished in the last 4 years. We should be proud of the property we were blessed to have given to us.

I am looking forward to seeing you at our annual business meeting on January 8th. Come and join DRGHS as we continue making a difference in the preservation of the history of our county.

I would like to take this time to thank everyone who has given to make our society a success. If you have not been by the house you should come by and take a look. We are well on our way to being finished with the restoration of this special building.

A look back article from the McCurtain Gazette (Idabel Oklahoma) Wednesday, May 25, 1921.

"Health exceedingly good. The weather is fair, good sunny days and crops are growing fast. Everybody is in good spirits." This tells us what was important in this day in the lives of our ancestors.

Robert

MGS ANNUAL SEMINAR

Mississippi Genealogical Society will host their annual seminar on Saturday, January 18, 2020 at Brandon Civic Center, 1000 Municipal Drive in Brandon. The all-day seminar begins at 8:30 AM and will feature Philip B. Adderly, noted genealogist, author and lecturer. Cost is $50 per person and includes a box lunch if registration is received by January 14.

A registration form is available at MGS website www.msgensociety.org.

You'll also find the agenda for the day as well as credentials of the speaker with this form.

This is usually a very interesting and informative seminar.
